Research

UND received a total of $107.9 million in external awards in Fiscal Year 2017. UND's sponsored research programs had a state and regional economic impact of $207.7 million in FY2017. The University's research activity in FY2017 resulted in 1,216 jobs, including 1,142 within North Dakota. Research activity at the University generated about $22.8 million in federal and state tax revenue in FY2017.

Fiscal Year 2017 Revenues: $452,786,714

^{*} Includes state appropriation of $68,460,994 for construction of the School of Medicine & Health Sciences.

NDUS Report on Economic Impact

As the chief opportunity engine for North Dakota and North Dakotans, the University of North Dakota is the state's most comprehensive intensive research university and the primary center for professional education and training. According to a 2015 study, UND's economic impact on that state and region is $1.9 billion. Levels of business activity resulting from UND expenditures supported 4,056 secondary (indirect and induced) jobs in FY2015. UND also exerts an economic impact through its students. Seventy-two percent of family medicine physicians practicing in North Dakota either graduated from the UND School of Medicine & Health Sciences or completed an in-state residency.* Additionally, UND has educated a significant number of the engineers and oil and gas experts working in the oil industry that is so critical to the state's economic health.
