1. POLICY

The completion or termination of the study is a change in activity and must be reported to the IRB by the Investigator. Although subjects will no longer be "at risk" under the study, a final report/notice to the IRB allows it to close its files and provides information that may be used by the IRB in the evaluation and approval of related studies.

2. SPECIFIC POLICIES

2.1 Determining When a Project Can Be Closed

2.1.1 When individually identifiable follow-up data are no longer being collected on subjects enrolled and when data analysis is complete, the study may be closed.

2.1.2 Multi-site industry supported studies may be closed when the Investigator submits his or her final report.

2.2 Project Closure Reports when IRB approval has expired

Investigators must submit a closure report to the IRB even when the IRB approval has expired. Failure to submit a closure report after multiple attempts may affect future submissions by the Investigators.

2.3 Administrative Closure of an Expired Project

The IRB has the authority to administratively close a research project that has expired and is closed to accrual. The IRB will notify the Investigator, the Investigator’s Adviser and/or the Chair of the Department, and any other appropriate individuals.

2.4 Notification of the IRB

When the IRB Chairperson terminates or temporarily suspends a research project, all regular members shall be informed of actions taken by the IRB at the next convened meeting.

3. RESPONSIBILITY
The IRB Staff is responsible for ensuring that all study completion documentation is received, reviewed, presented to the IRB, and filed appropriately.

The IRB Chairperson and/or Vice Chairperson are responsible for administratively closing research projects that have been terminated due to expiration.
