Director's Column

Greetings Students, Colleagues, and Friends!

With signs of spring starting to appear, it is my genuine hope that all are inspired by the season of new life and coming warmth! This is the time of year when our American Indian week and Wacipi are right around the corner, and the campus community can thank the hardworking American Indian student leaders for organizing and bringing this major cultural event to our University campus. I hope their long evenings of meeting, planning, and fundraising are rewarded by a campus community that participates in the Time Out events! For those of you not very familiar with the Annual Time Out Week & Wacipi, you may find yourselves wondering, “why should I attend, how would attending benefit me?” The complete answer to that is lengthy, but put simply and in brief, stepping outside of your comfort zone, opening your mind and heart to new experiences and new friends, and broadening your repertoire of diverse and cultural experiences results in intellectual growth and renders you better prepared to work and contribute to an increasingly global society.

Beyond that, this is the University of North Dakota, a proud state institution of higher learning! And central to the spirited and colorful history, impressive level of development, and brighter than ever before future of North Dakota, are the five major tribal populations of American Indian people who first called this great state home. Beginning with our closest tribal neighbors, these tribes include the Spirit Lake Nation; the Turtle Mountain Band of Chippewa Indians; the Three Affiliated Tribes: Mandan, Hidatsa, and Arikara; The Standing Rock Sioux Tribe; and the Sisseton- Wahpeton Oyate. At UND, we have American Indian students proudly representing each of these tribes, and they are eager to share in the celebration of community, while welcoming their campus community members to experience their unique and vibrant cultures.

So please everyone, you are warmly invited, enthusiastically welcomed and strongly encouraged to join in the 45th Indian Studies Association’s (ISA) Time Out Week of cultural and educational presentations and the UND Indian Association’s (UNDIA) Time Out Wacipi (powwow) community celebration taking place this month from April 13th to 19th! Please show your support of the numerous American Indian students who have worked long and hard by taking a little “Time Out” to become involved by volunteering and/or attending these wonderful events! Yes, we still do need many more volunteers to make these events a success. You need only commit a few hours, and I assure you that you will be very glad you did!
Individuals who become involved in their community build leadership skills that often lead to them becoming community leaders – so join in and contribute to the events as well as to your own leadership development!

I’d also like to acknowledge a stellar group of student leaders by introducing the 2014-2015 presidents of three currently active American Indian student organizations at UND: President Tyson Jeannotte, University of North Dakota Indian Association (UNDIA); President Sashay Schettler, Indian Studies Association (ISA); President Hannah Balderas, American Indian Science & Engineering Society (AISES); and President Janie Schroeder, Native American Law Students Association (NALSA). Students, I have witnessed your impressive level of growth and development, your generosity of service, your courage, and your persistence throughout your term as leaders, and I believe each of you has truly demonstrated the time-honored tribal values of our people as well as the standard of excellence that President Robert Kelley has held this institution to throughout his presidency. I am as proud and grateful to you all as I am excited for your most promising futures! Thank you and thank you to your organization’s executive boards and general members for your wealth of diverse contributions to the University of North Dakota!

I’m proud to share that we have 58 American Indian student candidates for Spring 2015 graduation! Our graduates for the academic year (Summer 2014, Winter 2014, and Spring 2015) total 94, earning UND a place of honor and recognition among all higher education institutions in the nation for supporting and graduating truly impressive numbers of American Indian students. Graduates, you are the reason that our American Indian Student Services staff members take such joy and pride in coming to work every day, and you are the most promising answer to meeting the many continuing needs of our tribal communities near and far. We are so proud of you and your accomplishments and as you go on to pursue your professions - please keep in touch!

And finally, I’d like to remind all students of the timely, critical importance of the following: deadlines: renew financial aid/FAFSA by April 15th; send transcripts (and a polite thank you) to tribal and other scholarships if required; Student Success Program participants—complete all requirements ASAP as the deadline has passed and many participants have not yet turned in their booklets! And students, as you study for final examinations and finish up those papers, keep in mind that the AISS staff and the friendly AISS tutors (working Sunday through Thursday evenings) are here to help YOU realize SUCCESS!

Colleagues, students, and friends, thank you all for your support, assistance, and friendship during this past academic year. Let’s continue our good work, planning, and collaborations as the rather hectic days of spring give way to the more relaxing days of summer!

~Dr. Leigh D. Jeanotte, Director

Mary Jane Schneider Celebration of Life

Saturday, April 25

The Celebration of Life

Mary Jane’s Celebration of Life event will be held on Saturday, April 25 at the Gorecki Alumni Center at UND. The address is 3501 University Ave, Grand Forks, ND. There is good parking. The event starts at 3pm.

This is not a funeral service but rather a celebration, an opportunity to share stories and memories, a time to reflect, and a time to laugh. There will be exhibits of her publications, of her pre-UND days, photographs, awards, and her quilled goods. In addition, there will be a silent auction of some of her quilled goods to raise money for an endowment fund in her honor. A light meal will be provided. A similar event took place in Norman, OK in November and proved to be an entertaining, enlightening, and a generally happy occasion.

There are many motels in Grand Forks and there should be plenty of rooms available. People have recommended the Canada Inn, the Hilton Garden Inn, the C'mon Inn, the Holiday Inn Express, the Quality Inn, and the Hampton Inn. There are many others.

PLEASE: In order to have sufficient seating and food, it is important to have good idea as how many are planning to attend. Call or email me no later than April 13th. I hope to see you there!

The Time Out Powwow

For those interested, Mary Jane will also be honored at the Time Out Powwow on the preceding weekend. This will be on Saturday, April 18th. Most likely this will take place following the Grand Entry at approximately 7 PM. The powwow starts on Friday and runs through Sunday. More information will be forthcoming.

Mary Jane’s Endowment Fund

An endowment fund has been established to honor Mary Jane’s contributions to UND, to her students, to her research, and to her service. The fund is being presented to the Department of Indian Studies to be used for a variety of educational purposes. It is possible to give online, through the mail, or at the Celebration of Life.

Giving Online: Click on this link to the Mary Jane Schneider Endowment giving page http://undalumni.org/maryjaneschneider Complete the form pages that follow; donor information, payment information (billing or credit card), review and submit.

Giving a Check and Send Through Mail  The check must be written to UND FOUNDATION (NOT UND). In the memo line of the check, indicate: Mary Jane Schneider Endowment. Send to: UND Foundation, Attn: Brandy Chaffee, 3501 University Avenue, Stop 8157, Grand Forks, ND 58202.

Note: The gifts received will go directly to the endowment unless otherwise indicated. If family and friends are interested in giving to the endowment “distribution fund” (distribution dollars can be spent immediately), please include the following:

ONLINE – on the giving page there is an “additional gift instructions” space where you can simply state “place my gift in the Mary Jane Schneider distribution fund”.

CHECK AND MAIL – enclose a note with check with same message “place my gift in the Mary Jane Schneider distribution fund” or write message in the memo of the check.

I will be attending the Powwow in addition to the Celebration of Life.

Best,

Fred Schneider  fs33141@cox.net  405-364-4978

Re: Women's Opportunity Scholarship Fund
Date: March, 2015

Enclosed please find one application kit for the 2015-2016 Women's Opportunity Scholarship Fund. We are beginning the application process once again, and we encourage you to share the application with any woman who is eligible. We hope you will be able to make copies of this application packet and distribute those copies to potential scholarship applicants, so that we can avoid paying large postage costs.

Please note that we cannot accept incomplete applications; eligibility depends greatly on the essay and the financial page. Please make sure that you identify a realistic need on the bottom of page 3. In addition, it's important that applicants find three individuals who would be willing to complete the recommendation forms and then send them to our office. Please note, as well, that we cannot accept late applications; the completed application must be returned to us by June 16, 2015.

We are pleased to have the chance once again to help women achieve their dreams and pursue a college education. We welcome you and the applicants to call us if you have any questions at (701) 255-6240 ext 104 or 1-888-255-6240 ext 104.

Thank you.

UND Counseling Center

The UND Counseling Center is offering services, which are covered by student fees and are confidential. The locations of UND Counseling services are as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>UND Counseling Center</th>
<th>McCannel Hall, 2nd Floor</th>
<th>Mon—Fri 8:00 AM—4:30 PM</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Apartment Community Center</td>
<td></td>
<td>Tues. 10:30 AM—8:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Apartment Community Center</td>

<td>Wed. 2:00 PM—8:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Child care available at ACC</td>
<td></td>
<td>Thurs. 2:00 PM—9:00 PM</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Johnstone Hall, Room 12</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Generally eligibility for services requires an individual to be enrolled, but one exception to eligibility for services is at the ACC location. Adult non-student family/partners of an enrolled student who is living within the UND apartment community are able to seek counseling services at the ACC location per an agreement with Housing.

Each of these locations UCC, ACC, and Johnstone, offers ongoing counseling and walk-in availability for students to either schedule or drop-in and visit with a counselor. We have a wide variety of staff, so students are able to meet with different individuals to find a good fit. We offer a wide range of services from individual, couples, group, and vocational counseling to low intensity outpatient treatment for drug and alcohol issues.

Presenting concerns often seen include but are not limited to anxiety, depression, relationship issues, academic concerns, drug and alcohol issues, trauma, body image, self-harm, etc.

Also if you’re having events throughout the semester, UCC staff would like to have a presence! Please keep in touch about ongoing events or need for specific programing. For further information, contact Stephanie Baas, PsyD

North Dakota Indian Scholarship for Summer 2015

The North Dakota Indian Scholarship has limited funding for summer 2015! They will be accepting applications through June 5, 2015 for both undergraduate and graduate students. If a student has already received funding for 2014/15, a new application is not required, however, you will need an updated needs analysis form for summer. If you have not received funding for 2014/15, you need to complete the entire 2014-15 NEW Application. Please... remember that you must be accepted to your college for enrollment, must be a North Dakota resident, must be enrolled fulltime (unless summer is your final term of study) and you must have completed the FAFSA to determine need.

The 2014/2015 application and needs analysis form can be found at http://www.ndus.edu/.../paying-for-college/grants-scholarships/…

The North Dakota Indian Scholarship Board has not approved the 2015/16 application and needs analysis yet. Please watch for that notice in the next few weeks. Thank you.

Scholarship Searches

Internet scholarship search engines provide extensive FREE scholarship information. Some of the larger search engines include: CollegeBoard, FastWEB, Mach25, NextStudent, and ScholarshipExperts scholarship searches. Another free resource is Weekly Scholarship Alert. This service e-mails you 5-10 scholarship notices each week; no personal information is gathered beyond name and e-mail address.

AIISS also has scholarship booklets and packets on hand for distribution.

Native American Scholarship Fund

The Native American Scholarship Fund is an endowment established to foster a sense of shared purpose and positive interaction between archaeologists and Native Americans. Scholarships are open to all Native peoples from anywhere in the Americas, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians, and Indigenous Pacific Islanders.

Since 1998, the SAA (Society for American Archeology) has used the endowment income to award the annual Arthur C. Parker Scholarship in support of archaeological training for Native Americans who are students or employees of tribal, Alaska Native, or Native Hawaiian cultural preservation programs. National Science Foundation (NSF) Scholarships for Archaeological Training for Native Americans and Native Hawaiians are also awarded through the Native American Scholarships Committee. In 2009, the SAA added two new awards in support of undergraduate and graduate archaeology education.

Support for these scholarships comes in several ways: through individual donations, an annual silent auction at the SAA meetings, book royalties, and grants. For questions about the applications process or to make a donation, please contact the Committee Chair.

* SAA Arthur C. Parker Scholarship or NSF Scholarship for Archaeological Training: to support archaeological training or a research program for Native American students or employees of tribal cultural preservation programs (up to $4,000).
* SAA Native Undergraduate Archaeology Scholarship: to support undergraduate studies for Native American students including but not limited to tuition, travel, food, housing, books, supplies, equipment, and child care (up to $5,000).
* SAA Native American Graduate Archaeology Scholarship: to support graduate studies for Native American students, including but not limited to tuition, travel, food, housing, books, supplies, equipment, and child care (up to $10,000).

American Indian Student Services

The AISS office provides all-encompassing student support services including advocacy, tutorial support, and academic, financial aid, and cultural advisement. It is responsible for coordinating recruitment, establishing communication channels, assisting with institutional planning, and advising UND’s faculty, staff, and administration as to the needs of American Indian students.

The staff is committed to helping students realize success at UND, and each member brings a unique area of specialty to their position such as financial aid guidance, housing assistance, academic advising, and technological or tutorial support. AISS also administers the American Indian Center on campus, and provides guidance and assistance to the American Indian student organizations and their events.
