University of North Dakota
Faculty Senate Constitution

The University of North Dakota (UND) is a collaborative institution with faculty, staff, students, and administrators engaged in a collective enterprise in pursuit of common goals. In sharing responsibility for governing our University, we value the following principles: governance based on the inclusive contributions of all members of the university community; the maintenance of civility in debate and dialogue; outcome-focused and transparent processes; diversity throughout our campus community; and innovation, empowerment, and leadership opportunities at all levels. Guided these shared objectives and using our exceptional talents, we serve and contribute to the welfare and future of local, state, national, and global communities.

Therefore, we resolve on the XX date of XX to create a representative body of faculty (the Faculty Senate) consisting of a percentage of delegates elected to speak and vote on behalf of the Faculty as a whole (the Faculty Council), to be constituted as described in the Faculty Senate Bylaws, and to include standing and ad hoc committees that perform functions deemed necessary by the Faculty Senate.

Article 1. Authority:
The faculty’s legislative powers shall reside in the Faculty Council and its Faculty Senate. The Faculty Council consists of all benefitted faculty of any rank.

The Faculty Senate may exercise all of the legislative powers of the Faculty Council, but subject to whatever limitations or instructions the Faculty Council may from time to time impose on the Faculty Senate in this regard. A quorum of the Faculty Council will be 25% of Council members. Any action of the Faculty Senate taken in the exercise of the Faculty Council’s powers may be revoked and declared to be of no force and effect by a majority vote of faculty present at any meeting of the Faculty Council. In the event of conflict between legislation of the Faculty Council and of the Faculty Senate, the legislation of the Faculty Council shall prevail.

The Faculty Senate shall meet regularly once a month during fall and spring semesters. Additional special meetings may be called by the President of the Faculty Senate or on written petition signed by a majority of the Faculty Senate.
