How are Students Placed in Quarantine or Isolation?

The Director of Emergency Management or their designee will coordinate quarantine and isolation for the University.

All University representatives will contact the director or their designee to begin this process.

When the director is made aware of a student of concern, the director will identify whether or not the student has been identified as a close contact and should quarantine or if they have tested positive for COVID and need to isolate.

During normal business hours, the director will contact OSRR for assistance. Outside of normal business hours, the director will work with the UND Operations Center to contact a member of the UND Care Team for assistance.

The OSRR Care Team member on call will do the following:
- Provide the Director of Emergency Management with all needed student contact information.
- Make initial contact with the student via email and provide them with an electronic copy of the UND Students in Quarantine or the UND Students in Isolation document.
- Log the student information in Starfish.

The director will consult with UND designated hotels to determine capacity and availability and will identify and assign a hotel space for the individual in need.

See the UND Students in COVID-19 Isolation and the Students in COVID-19 Quarantine guidance documents for additional information.

Where Can People Quarantine?

Students identified as close contacts by the NDDoH or a public health official and living in the residence halls may be able to quarantine in their room so long as they have access to a private bathroom for the entire duration of their quarantine. Quarantining students unable to stay in their room will be relocated to another on-campus room or to a UND-designated hotel at no cost to them.

Students identified as close contacts by the NDDoH or a public health official and living in UND apartments will be able to quarantine in their apartment. However, students unable to quarantine safely may select to quarantine at a UND-designated hotel at no cost to them.

Off-campus students identified as close contacts by the NDDoH or a public health official may quarantine at a UND-designated hotel. This includes students living in fraternity or sorority chapter houses as well as students unable to isolate in their current location. Students will be able to stay at a UND-designated hotel at no cost to them.
Faculty and staff arriving to North Dakota from international locations, excluding Canada, may choose to quarantine at a UND designated hotel. Faculty and staff will be able to do so at no cost to them.

Who Needs to Isolate?
All individuals who have tested positive for COVID-19 as identified by the NDDoH or other public health agency must isolate.

Residence hall students will not be able to isolate on-campus and will be relocated to a UND-designated hotel for their isolation period. There will be no additional cost to students.

Students living in UND apartments will be able to isolate in their apartment. However, students unable to isolate safely may choose to isolate at a UND-designated hotel at no cost to them.

Off-campus students living in fraternity or sorority chapter houses, as well as students unable to isolate in their current location, may choose to isolate at a UND-designated hotel at no cost to them.

Dining:
Dining will work with Safety/Dining to arrange meal delivery for students quarantining and isolating at UND-designated hotels as needed/appropriate.

Individuals completing quarantine and/or isolation at a UND-designated hotel will receive meals through Dining at no cost to them.

Room service and other services ordered through the hotel will be charged to the individual in quarantine and/or isolation and not to the University.

Meal costs provided to individuals by UND Dining will be charged to the University and submitted for reimbursement.
