2.3 Schedule

Course schedule for the entirety of the semester (Exceeding), partial schedule (Meeting)

Due dates for all assignments, quizzes, and exams (Exceeding), partial (Meeting)

Comments:

3.0 Content Organization

3.1 Lessons

All lessons sequenced in a logical order (Exceeding), partial (Meeting)

Course organization broken into chunks (E.g., units, modules)
Course organization broken into chunks (e.g. units, modules, weeks, sessions, lessons...etc)

- Lessons' include well-defined learning objectives. All (Exceeding), some (Meeting), none (Developing).
- Lessons' include a to-do list. All (Exceeding), some (Meeting), none (Developing).
- Lessons' include or link to course assessments. All (Exceeding), some (Meeting), none (Developing).

Short original video lectures with clear audio and visual

If recordings of on-campus lectures are used at all, they are used as supplement resources

Resources:

Comments:
3.2 Consistency and Accuracy

All course terminology is consistent and accurate (Exceeding), partial (Meeting).

Consistent use of color scheme, theme, icons, and fonts. Graphics and colors enhance learning.

Comments:

3.5 Evaluation & Assessment

Assessment methods are varied and aligned with learning objective

Assignments posted with clear directions, rubric, due dates, possible points, and where students can access their feedback
Resources:

Alternative Assessments to High Stakes Exams proctored examinations are typically considered "high-stakes testing" and are not always a necessity for assessing a student’s mastery of a course’s learning objectives. Creative alternatives to proctored exams such as those that follow should be carefully considered as acceptable options given the realities we are faced with this semester.
