4. Mr. Newman introduced himself and overviewed the agenda for the day. Before proceeding with the agenda, he took a moment to reflect on the current news regarding Indigenous cultural items and ancestors being discovered on the UND campus. He referenced the UND Land Use Acknowledgement. He thanked the repatriation team and provided a link to the website. Please review the information on the University Senate website. Mr. Newman discussed shared governance and the support from the Offices of the President and the Provost. Please refer to the Senate Committee manual for ways to get involved at UND.

5. Mr. Newman commented on the upcoming academic year. Please remember there is a Diversity conference in October. Also, please remember to comment on the VPSA search using the online forms.

6. Ms. Legerski provided an update from the Council of College Faculties. She stated that the group does not meet during the summer. Please refer to Senate Executive Committee updates for additional information.

7. Ms. Cox provided a Staff Senate update. The Staff Senate has been quite busy. All open committee memberships have been filled. Ms. Kenny has joined as the third voting representative for the Staff Senate on University Senate. There was a meeting with President Armacost. The State Employee Recognition week will be end of the month of September. Mr. Schill and Ms. Cox met with state education leaders to allow dependents to attend other colleges. More updates to come on this topic.

8. Ms. Wahl provided a Student Government update. The first Student Senate meeting was last night. It is a very diverse group. The Green Bandana project is an initiative on campus to be a mental resource for students and their peers. Three hundred and forty-six students have been trained. There is an increased effort around sustainability this year. Some events that are being planned – Spring Fling, among others. OERs are very important for the upcoming year. Transportation and parking will also be a focus. A renewed focus on mental health and issues surround it. There will be a reach out to underserved populations to discuss how policies and procedures could be modified to remove barriers.

Mr. Holm provided the Provost updates. Mr. Link could not attend today. We are up in total enrollment this fall, with a strong increase in undergraduate online students as well as transfer students. First-year freshmen enrollment is flat but could be slightly up. Several programs are at capacity. There is still a slowness processing international student visas. There is also a slowing of graduate program enrollment.

Quorum was established

Without objection, the minutes from the University Senate on May 5, 2022, were approved without objection.

Mr. Armacost announced the painfulness of the repatriation process. However, yesterday was when the news was shared. He offered his deepest, and most sincere apologies. He stated the work will continue until complete. There are support systems in place if this has affected anyone – faculty, staff, and students. Ms. Alberts asked that if you have other artifacts or items, please email her at crystal.alberts@und.edu. Please reach out, and please do not touch or move the items or ancestors. Mr. Armacost stated that repatriation is the first order of business. The second is to be understanding to the students who this has affected.

Mr. Mochoruk discussed the Strategic Planning process. Over 50 focus groups were conducted. The SPC website has all the documents to date. The President’s Executive Council is very pleased with the results to date. There have been extensive revisions of the core values. They will be released for feedback next week. Ms. Krenelka thanked the seven work groups who worked very hard to get to this point today. There will be many more drafts and feedback cycles during this fall semester. The goal is to have the completed plan to the President in December of this year.

The following announcements were made:

   - Summer graduation candidates were approved.

b. Mr. Newman, SEC Updates

f. Mr. Newman announced that Provost Link will soon launch a search for the next Director of Essential Studies. The successful candidate will be a full-time faculty member.

14. The twenty-minute question period opened at 4:30pm. Ms. Alberts asked about what we are doing to address the ongoing issues with the bookstore. Mr. Armacost does not have an answer today. He will work with Ms. Loiland. Please send all concerns to Taylor Hanson Wald, taylor.hansonwald@und.edu. Mr. Sheridan asked Mr. Armacost to help us understand more deeply the nature of the pain and sadness that the native people are experiencing right now. Mr. Armacost stated you can see the pain when it is revealed. Please see the press conference for a visual example. Ms. Alberts asked for an Indigenous member to share their experience. Ms. Alberts also stated that the Indigenous peoples are also rightfully upset because these collections and practices are further evidence they are seen as objects to be studied rather than as people. The question period ended at 4:45pm.

Proposed Change to the Fall Academic Calendar

NDUS is considering a NDSA request for a mental health break each fall semester. AAC members have been tasked with bringing recommendations and feedback from each campus to the October meeting.

Background & Information

- SBHE policy currently requires 160 days of instruction in an academic year (16-week semester). Most other institutions have 15 weeks of instruction in a semester.
- There is a relatively long stretch between Labor Day and Veterans Day without a break.
- A small workgroup that included AAC, SAC, CCF, and the student records user group came up with three options to consider (see below). These options occur after the first eight weeks of instruction.
- At the earliest, a change would go into effect during the 2024 – 2025 AY.
  - Academic year calendars are approved at least two years in advance.

Options (using Fall 2022 as an example, only)

- Option 1 – Monday, October 17 and Tuesday, October 18
- Option 2 – Thursday, October 20 and Friday, October 21
- Option 3 – Monday, October 17 through Friday, October 21

Existing Discussion & Concerns

- Thursday, October 20 and Friday, October 21 would interfere with Fall Open House activities and recruiting efforts

Chair Senate Honors Committee
The Senate University Assessment Committee (UAC) provides faculty guidance and oversight to the Office of the Vice President of Academic Affairs and Provost in developing and implementing the University Assessment Plan. In addition, the committee analyzes and interprets assessment results, develops appropriate reports, and disseminates assessment results to the Office of Vice President of Academic Affairs and Provost, the University Senate, and the community.

The University Assessment Committee accomplished the tasks and responsibilities charged to it by the University Senate, with support provided by the Director of University Assessment and Accreditation, Dr. Tim Burrows, and the University Assessment and Accreditation Specialist, Karina Knutson. The committee appreciates the assistance and expertise provided by Dr. Burrows and Karina Knutson.

The committee wishes to thank the Office of University Analytics and Planning and the University community for their assessment efforts. Every contribution is vital to the assessment process at the University of North Dakota. Dr. Amber Johnson (CNPD) and Dr. Soizik Laguette (JDO) co-chaired the Senate University Assessment Committee for the 2021-2022 academic year. Committee members for the 2021-2022 year included:

- Frank Bowman (CEM)

Functions and Responsibilities of the University Assessment Committee

The University Senate has identified six areas of responsibility for the University Assessment Committee. The duties of the committee and its accomplishments during the 2020-21 academic year are as follows:

I. Address all issues regarding assessment of student achievement and development.

The University began utilizing Taskstream in AY 2020-21, where academic departments and co-curricular programs upload assessment plans and annual assessment reports. In 2021-22, the University Assessment Committee (UAC) utilized Taskstream to review assessment plans and annual reports for the College of Education and Human Development, College of Nursing and Professional Disciplines and the School of Medicine and Health Sciences. The UAC also conducted reviews of co-curricular units, including Disability Services, the McNair Program (TRIO), the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities, and the Writing Center.

The UAC provided feedback on student learning outcomes, assessment measures, reported results, and opportunities for utilizing assessment information for continuous improvement. The feedback was compiled in Taskstream and is available to department chairs and unit directors.

II. Develop, review, and evaluate the University Assessment Plan in conjunction with the Assessment Director.

The UAC reviewed and revised the University Assessment Plan; it will be presented to the Senate during the fall 2022 semester for approval. Significant changes include alignment of the UAV review timeline with Academic Program Review and updates to the Essential Studies assessment process.

III. Oversee the implementation of the University Assessment Plan, evaluate assessment activities and the interpretation of assessment results, and evaluate the overall effectiveness of the Plan.

As previously indicated, in 2021-22, the UAC reviewed the assessment findings from three Colleges, totaling 29 graduate programs, 40 undergraduate programs, and 27 certificate programs. In addition, the committee reviewed assessment results for five non-academic programs.

The Assessment Director, Assessment & Accreditation Specialist, and the UAC continue to guide departments as they develop, implement, and use their assessment plans. Collectively, the reviews assist with determining the state of assessment for the University. Departments and programs have specific assessment plans with well-articulated student learning goals. Moreover, programs implement assessment methods appropriately. Occasionally, a single assessment method predominates, or the assessment method(s) need further description. A minimal number of programs did not provide results of assessment activities or evidence of actions taken based on assessment results.

Resources and trainings continue to be developed for departments to assist them in continuously improving on their assessment efforts.
IV. Make recommendations regarding how to address any deficiencies that are revealed by assessment activities.

_The UAC provides prompt, effective, and efficient feedback to academic departments and co-curricular units and offers assistance with assessment activities. Additional trainings and professional development opportunities will be provided to the campus by the Assessment Director, Assessment Specialist and/or the UAC on the topics that were scored the lowest based on the evaluation rubric for each department. The UAC continues to progress in supporting academic departments and co-curricular units when submitting their assessment plans and annual assessment reports. Currently, the university utilizes Taskstream (by Watermark) to compile assessment plans and reports. However, several faculty have voiced concerns regarding the complexity of the Taskstream platform. During the AY 2021-2022, the UAC Co-chairs, Assessment Director, Accreditation Specialist, and other parties of interest attended webinars to learn more about a different platform. The University will utilize Taskstream for one more year, then upgrade to Planning & Self Study (also a Watermark product) for the 22-23 assessment cycle submissions. This updated software has more user-friendly features and provides enhanced reporting abilities for compiling aggregate information across the institution._

_Feedback was also collected from the UAC itself regarding the internal processes, determine knowledge gaps of members, and identify priorities for the 22-23 academic year._

V. Review University Accreditation Report when issued and advise the Senate regarding the Report and its implications.

_The Assessment Committee continues to support institutional efforts related to accreditation. The results from the review of assessment materials will be used in UND’s assurance argument for the HLC re-accreditation._

VI. Provide guidance to the Assessment Director in order to keep the assessment website current.

_The University Assessment website is kept current by the Assessment and Accreditation Specialist. The UAC is available to provide feedback as needed. For more information, please visit: https://campus.und.edu/assessment-accreditation/

_During the 21-22 year, the website was updated to include: additional instructions related to submitting annual assessment requirements in Taskstream, resources related to all steps of the assessment cycle, and connections to the Essential Studies and Academic Program Review processes and websites. Web traffic counts are collected on a semesterly basis to identify which areas are utilized the most often._

Summary: Updates/revisions to the following documents were made during the AY2021-2022; the UAC will submit the documents, to the Senate, in the fall 2022 semester for approval:

- UAC Charge
- University Assessment Plan
- Assessment Review and Academic Program Review Coupling Proposal
During the 2021-2022 academic year, the University Assessment Committee fulfilled its purpose, function, and responsibilities.
