Claim Your Account
UND is part of the North Dakota University System. To access the systems you’ll need as a UND student, you must activate your NDUS account. Go to UND.edu/claim and follow the instructions to claim your account.

Check Your Email
Before you’ve registered for classes, please frequently check the email you used on your admission application for official communications from the University regarding financial aid, housing, Orientation, course registration and more.

After you’ve registered for classes, you’ll be able to log in to your UND student email account by following the directions at UND.edu/email.

Log in to Campus Connection
Campus Connection is the system you’ll use to accept or decline financial aid awards, register for classes, pay your bill and more.

After you’ve claimed your NDUS account and have obtained your user ID and password, follow these steps to log in to Campus Connection:

1. Go to UND.edu.
2. Click on the “Logins” link at the top of the page and choose “Campus Connection.”
3. On the Campus Connection login page, enter your user ID (firstname.lastname) and password.
4. Click “Log In.”

View Your Registration Time in Campus Connection
Find the date your registration time will be available to view in Campus Connection at UND.edu/one-stop/academic-calendar. Your registration time is based on the number of college credits you’ve completed. You may register for classes any time on or after your registration date and time. Within Campus Connection, view “Enrollment Dates” (right side of page) and click “Details” to find your registration date and time.

Complete the Financial Agreement
Prior to each semester, you must electronically sign the Financial Obligation Agreement in Campus Connection before you’ll be able to register for classes. Within Campus Connection, click “Financial Obligation Agreement.”

Send College Transcripts to UND
Don’t pay for college twice! Before you register for classes, it’s very important that advisors are aware of any college-level credits you already have earned. If we don’t have your official college transcripts, the college credits you’ve already completed won’t be transferred to UND.

You must ask the college or university from which you earned the credit to send your official transcripts directly to:

UND Office of Admissions
3501 University Ave Stop 8357
Grand Forks, ND 58202-8357

Colleges and universities charge a minimal fee ($5 to $10) to provide official transcripts.

Get Advised
As a transfer student, a College Transfer Advisor will contact you to discuss your transfer course equivalences and to help get you registered for classes. Our College Transfer Advisors are here to help with any questions you have.

Submit Your Mandatory Immunizations and TB Screening Form
Prior to registering for classes, new students must submit the Mandatory Immunizations and TB Screening Form to UND Student Health Services.

Access your patient health portal at myhealth.UND.edu to enter your immunizations and upload immunization information electronically.

For more information and the full admitted transfer student checklist, visit UND.edu/admitted-students
Register for Classes
Registration for classes is based on your registration time. You’ll register for classes within the Campus Connection Student Center. For step-by-step instructions on how to register and search for classes, visit UND.edu/one-stop/how-guides.

Take Care of Financial Aid
If you haven’t already done so, make sure you’ve taken the necessary steps to apply for financial aid.

Submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid
The financial aid you receive at your current school does not automatically transfer to UND. Please make sure that you:
1. Add UND’s school code (003005) to your current FAFSA so your information can be forwarded to UND for processing.
2. Cancel any unprocessed aid from your previous institution.

Accept/Decline Financial Aid
Once your FAFSA application is processed, watch your mail beginning in December for your UND Financial Aid Guide. It will list your financial aid award and instructions for accepting or declining it in Campus Connection.

Apply for Housing
Visit UND.edu/housing to learn about affordable and convenient UND apartments, University Place and residence hall options.

Purchase Parking Permit
If you want to park a vehicle on campus, you must purchase a virtual parking permit online through Campus Connection. For complete details about parking, visit UND.edu/parking.

Get Textbooks
After you register for classes, visit the UND Bookstore to find out which books or other materials you may need. You have the option to buy or rent textbooks, new or used, from the UND Bookstore.

You also can visit UNDbookstore.com to find your textbooks. When you purchase your books online, you can have them shipped to your residence or pick them up at the store.

Download Microsoft Office for Free
As a UND student, you’ll receive for free Microsoft Office 365 ProPlus, which includes Word, PowerPoint, Excel, OneNote, Outlook and more. You may install Office 365 ProPlus on a maximum of five home or personally owned PCs/Macs and on a maximum of five mobile devices. Office mobile applications are accessible on iPhone and Android phones.

Visit UND.edu/uit/procurement and click “UND Software Store” for details.

Get Your U Card
The U Card is your official UND identification and access credential card for campus. Carry it with you at all times. Your U Card provides access to many campus buildings, library resource materials, printing funds, as well as entrance to the Wellness Center, dining services and athletic events. Learn more at UND.edu/ucard.

Pay Your Bill
Review your Campus Connection account to see details for your bill. Current tuition rates also are listed at UND.edu/tuition.

Payments can be made online through Campus Connection. Go to UND.edu/one-stop/payments for other options to pay your bill.

Financial Aid Refunds
If the financial aid you’re awarded is higher than the amount owed to UND, you may have excess financial aid and other refunds. About two weeks after registering for courses, you’ll receive a letter instructing you to select your preference for having the excess funds deposited into your existing bank account or to a new account that you can open with UND’s refund partner.

FERPA Privacy Release
The Family Educational Rights & Privacy Act establishes certain rights for students regarding the privacy of their educational records. To permit someone else to receive detailed information regarding your records, you must complete the FERPA privacy release form. This form allows UND to release the financial and academic records that you designate.

Connect with Future Classmates
Join the UND Transfer & Online Facebook group at facebook.com/groups/UNDtransfer to connect with your future classmates and discuss classes, professors, roommates, textbooks and anything else related to UND.
