Jaedon Hines

Originally from Thornton, C.O., Jaedon came to UND in pursuit of degrees in Aviation Management and Commercial Aviation. He worked as a student support specialist for the Office of Student Diversity & Inclusion, which allowed him to lead and facilitate discussions, workshops and training around matters of diversity, equity and inclusion. He also worked as a resident assistant, which allowed him to help new students build their own communities through the resources provided by Housing & Residence Life. He currently works as a UND flight instructor helping students meet FAA requirements to attain their pilot certifications and ratings.

Mallory Bernhard

Mallory Bernhard is a 2011 graduate of UND and is currently the head coach of the UND women's basketball team. She made history as the first former UND student-athlete to hold the position. Under her leadership, the team has seen significant improvements, including reaching the postseason for the first time in several years. Bernhard's coaching expertise has been recognized with a contract extension through the 2025-26 season. Prior to her coaching career, Bernhard had a successful playing career at UND and has since been instrumental in recruiting top talent and mentoring players to achieve individual and team success. She resides in Grand Forks with her husband, Nick, and their two children, Louis and Lizzie.
