 - CoBPA Office of Academic Advising, which is a professional advising center for all College undergraduates. Included supervision of employees.
 - CoBPA Pancratz Career Development Center.
 - Oversaw the creation of career programming for CoBPA students. The Center had a significant growth in services, programing, and usage during my time as Associate Dean, such as mentoring and outreach programs.
 - CoBPA Office of Graduate Programs.

- Initiated a Strategic Planning process as MBA Director, and later oversaw its completion as Associate Dean. Led to a curricular overhaul, as well as changes to mission and other aspects of the program (e.g., prerequisites). The online MBA program improved to a ranking of #29 by U.S. News and World Reports at the time.
- The curricular changes, along with a digital marketing program, led to growth of MBA program by 63% in one year. The growth coincided with an increase in the average GMAT score.
- Involvement in accreditation processes, including HLC, AACSB, and NASPAA. The College Accreditation Coordinator was a direct report to me.
 - While I was Associate Dean, the College was successfully reaccredited by AACSB. I participated in planning and initiation of activities (e.g., faculty qualifications standards), preparation of report, site visit, and follow-up.
- Participated in strategic planning process for the College, including a formal process of formalizing the College's distinctiveness, mission and vision development, SWOT analysis, and formalization of goals and objectives.
- Led process in the College called "Reimagining the BBA Core." This included leading two task forces made up of faculty and staff, stakeholder outreach, preparing the documents, project management duties related to the process, and leading discussions and changes with the Executive Committee of the College (Chairs).
- Oversaw of all curriculum planning and assessment activities.
 - Led effort to create and enhance the College High-Impact Practices offerings. As part of this, completely revamped our approach and standardized the process around internships.
- Oversaw the awarding of ~$600,000 in student scholarships per year.

 - Developed and refined the "Program" plan.
 - Hired a construction management firm.
- Multi-year member of the UND Strategic Enrollment Management Committee.
 - Focused on recruitment, enrollment, retention, graduation

- rates, four-year planning, branding, marketing, etc.
 - With the Dean and Associate Dean of Administration:
 - Overhauled many personnel processes in the College related to merit, workload, faculty qualifications, and evaluation of teaching, research and service.
 - Participated in the planning of the College transition from a traditional incremental budgeting approach at the University, to a decentralized Responsibility Centered Budgeting Model (RCM; at UND called a Model for Incentive-Based Resource Allocation, or MIRA). This included creation of an allocation model for departments, which incentivized efficiencies.
 - Cutback management: made two rounds of ~12% budget cuts for the CoBPA.
 - Associate Dean of Research (formally part of portfolio for one year; informally for several years).
 - Oversaw research mission of College, which was formally reflected in my title for a year.
 - Dean's Office member of a summer task force to create a journal quality list (JQL) for the College (2015). Created and institutionalized a list (with discipline sublists) and a process for changes to the list, which included a standing committee.
 - Served on the JQL Committee as the Dean's Office representative.
 - Led 2018 summer task force to revisit and revise the journal quality list (JQL) for the College (2018). Included creating a more automated statistical process for three-year scheduled list revisions.
 - Led effort to enhance funded research.
 - Served as the CoBPA representative on the UND Associate Deans of Research Committee, chaired by the Vice-President for Research.
 - Led multiyear effort to institutionalize applied research within the CoBPA and enhance funded research, while pursuing the UND Grand Challenges. This involved folding the three existing research centers and bureaus into one entity. The effort culminated in the creation of a new research institute within the CoBPA, which I currently direct.
- 2012-2013 Director, Master of Business Administration (MBA) Program
- Initiated strategic planning for the program, which involved leading a faculty task force, researching MBA programs, and getting stakeholder input (industry representatives and Advisory Council members). This plan was eventually completed and implemented while I was Associate Dean.
- 2007-2012 Director, Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program;
Director of Certificate Programs
- Prepared the NASPAA self-study report and coordinated the site-visit. The program was ultimately reaccredited.¹

¹ Perhaps the greatest compliment of my efforts at directing the MPA program was made by the NASPAA site visit team in their report: "The Director of the MPA program, Professor Jason Jensen, is an outstanding asset to the program. He was universally acknowledged by students, alumni, and colleagues for administrative skills, his leadership abilities, and quality advising and teaching."

- Implemented the following changes to the MPA program:
 - Led effort and task force to create a graduate certificate in Social Entrepreneurship. 2007-2011.
 - Migrated from interactive video model of distance delivery to online-assisted model. Led to exponential (~100%) growth in the program and ultimately made the program more diverse and selective, and better allowed us to support our mission.
 - Led changes of mission and goals of program.
 - Formalized the MPA steering Committee (Chairperson, By-Laws, etc.).
 - Formalized the Advisory Board: Reconstituted the Board, instituted member job description, reception and student networking event.
 - Started the MPA Student Organization (held events, such as diversity-related speakers).
 - Started a Pi Alpha Alpha chapter.
 - Completely revamped website, to include new marketing materials.
 - Formalized the application process, changed the independent study process, created and instituted an independent study guidebook, revamped the internship manual, and instituted a formal procedure for internship waiver requests.
 - Created and implemented an assessment plan for student learning and separate assessment plans for various aspects of the program.
 - Created a strategic management program logic model. NASPAA was impressed with this model and invited me to present it at the National accreditation conference.
 - Designed and carried out surveys about attitudes of North Dakota residents related to budgetary issues, and a survey of government officials in ND.
 - Created a formal diversity plan for the program. This plan included diversifying the program by changing the distance delivery mode. This was ultimately published in the Journal of Public Administration Education (<https://www.tandfonline.com/doi/abs/10.1080/15236803.2018.1429809>).
