Integration of Oral Health Care Providers in Nursing Home Settings: Piloting a Collaborative Care model and a Standardized Dental Screening Tool for Quality and Cost-Efficient Resident Care

Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ)

Health Services Research Demonstration and Dissemination Grants (R18)

Fall 2018 – Fall 2021

$952,090.00

Role: Principal Investigator

Often disregarded, preventative oral health care services and dental treatment are imperative for good overall health and quality of life, especially among individuals ages 65 and older. Our proposed research demonstration aims to pilot and describe an integrated care model in which dental hygienists work alongside nursing home unit charge nurses to complete the initial oral health screenings and dental referrals for new residents. Results of this research may be utilized to replicate the model providing financially sustainable, appropriate, and quality dental screenings for nursing home residents while also informing dental reimbursement models.
