

On September 21, 2023, Nathan Cross (Totem Technologies) will be presenting a webinar titled “Cybersecurity Essentials That Protect Your Business and Customer.” Cyberattacks are on the rise, and small businesses are primary targets. Many small businesses are unsure where to begin when improving their cybersecurity. During this webinar, we’ll share our methodology for reducing cybersecurity risk within a small business environment. This methodology, derived from recommendations by leading security organizations, outlines ten simple (and affordable) steps to building a resilient cybersecurity program tailored to small business resource constraints.
