

Iviry Webinar Brief

Title: The DoD Cybersecurity Compliance Countdown: Who's at Risk?

What to expect: In this crucial 1-hour webinar session, the Iviry team will urgently address the complexity of government security standards, specifically the NIST 800-171 requirements, established for organizations handling Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI). With the CMMC ruling expected later this year, the time to act is now!

We'll guide you on how to transform cybersecurity compliance from a daunting task to an integral part of your organization. As we reiterated in our last webinar, compliance is not solely an IT department's responsibility, but rather it is a strategic business issue that affects every aspect of the company.

As a small business, Iviry is intimately familiar with the need to optimize resources and implement efficient, practical compliance solutions. We're here to help you navigate the urgent requirements and prepare for the upcoming CMMC ruling.

Join us to transform compliance into a strategic asset and stay ahead of the curve. The clock is ticking, and your proactive action today can make all the difference.
